ABOUT ME

I am an engineering student at Shiv Nadar University with a strong foundation in analytical thinking and a keen interest in finance. I recently won an inter-college stock market simulation challenge, earning a cash prize for strategic decision-making and market insight. I joined xyz company limited based in Karnataka during my 10th to 12th grades and have continued to manage marketing and sales operations there, gaining hands-on experience in business strategy and client engagement.

I strongly believe in integrity, values, and ethical practices, and I'm also developing my technical skills — I have a decent grasp of coding and am actively working to strengthen it further. I'm excited to bring this blend of business understanding, technical curiosity, and strong values to a dynamic environment like HSBC.

Outside of my studies, I am passionate about trekking, playing chess, and reading. I also actively participate in blood drive donations and social meets.
